Dear Mr Hribar,

I would like to thank you and your colleagues Helena Skutnik and Petra Lenic for the contribution to the preparation and smooth running of the international conference “(Last) call for quality journalism” which took place in Ljubljana, Slovenia on 28 and 29 November 2019.

Co-organised by the Council of Europe and the Slovenian Ministry of Culture the event constituted an important platform for sharing good practices, raising awareness and developing policy and project proposals on enhancing quality journalism and spreading media literacy for participants and experts from across the continent.

We valued your significant contribution to the smooth organisation of the speakers’ and participant’s travel and accommodation arrangements, printing of the documentation and the management of the conference venue. Your reactivity, professionalism and solution-oriented approach were most helpful and highly appreciated by the Council of Europe team members, Slovenian co-organisers and the conference participants and speakers.

I would highly recommend Ink conferences agency for a clear communication style, structured approach to international conference management, commitment to results, attention to details and efficient engagement resulting in quality and timely deliverables.

Wishing you much success for the future,

Yours sincerely,

Patrick Penninckx
